

AMERICAN SCIENTISTS TO VISIT WASHINGTON

Meetings to Be Held at Columbian University.

Preliminary arrangements for the coming meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science have been completed. The members of the association will convene in the Lafayette Theater on Monday, December 29, at 10 o'clock, and subsequent meetings will be held daily in the main hall of the Columbian University until January 3.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science is one of the most representative bodies of learned men in the United States. Its membership is made up of several hundred men foremost in their several departments of science. The discussions and papers read before the association contain the latest discoveries in scientific truth and the most authoritative dicta of experts in every field of scholarly investigation.

The coming meeting of the association is its forty-second annual gathering. In conjunction with the general meetings alluded to, the annual gatherings of twenty-one scientific societies affiliated with the larger body will be held. These smaller meetings have to do with specific lines of investigation.

The general arrangements for the different meetings, and the comfort of the members while in the city are in the hands of an executive committee, of which Dr. Charles D. Walcott is chairman. Associated with him are: Marcus Benjamin, Dr. David T. Day, G. K. Gilbert, Gilbert H. Grosvenor, L. O. Howard, Dr. George M. Kober, Prof. W. J. McGee, and C. E. Munroe.

President Roosevelt is ex-officio chairman of the general committee of arrangements, and the vice presidents include the most eminent scientists and patrons of the association in Washington.

For the convenience of the members of the association the committee of arrangements has issued a guide of the city and of the convention program. It is a handy volume of about seventy-five pages, and gives brief and accurate directions how visitors are to proceed from the various hotels to find the places of meeting and important points of interest in the city.

FINED FOR VIOLATING

MARYLAND LIQUOR LAW

Andrew Beach, when arraigned before Judge Merrick yesterday, pleaded guilty to five indictments for violation of the liquor law of Prince George county. Beach was the proprietor of a resort at Chesapeake Junction. He surrendered himself to the local police and then sought to secure his release from custody through habeas corpus proceedings. His petition was denied and he took an appeal from this judgment. Beach later abandoned his appeal and surrendered to the Maryland authorities. Judge Merrick imposed sentence in only one of the cases against Beach. He fined him $300 in one case and suspended sentence in the others.

W. R. HOPKINS' FUNERAL.

The funeral services of the late W. R. Hopkins were held yesterday afternoon at the home of his son, Frank D. Hopkins, in Takoma Park, the Rev. William Hart Dexter officiating. The interment will be at Mount Clinton, Va., today.

DR. PETERS' LECTURE.

Dr. Madison C. Peters, of Baltimore, lectured on "How to Make Things Go" at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday evening.

TO ADDRESS MASS MEETING.

Hon. Ezekiel S. Candler, of Mississippi, will address a mass-meeting to be held in the auditorium of the Central Union Mission, 622 Louisiana Avenue, tomorrow evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

BRIGHTWOOD CITIZENS DESIRE STATEHOOD

Give Approval to Senator
Gallinger's Resolution.

The Brightwood Citizens' Association held its regular meeting last night. The Senate resolution No. 132, which was introduced by Senator Gallinger, was the principal topic of discussion. The resolution provides for an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, Article XVI, as follows:

"The District of Columbia shall be considered a State in so far as shall entitle it to representation in the Congress of the United States and in the Electoral College, and in said District of Columbia Senators and electors shall be chosen by the direct vote of the people."

Among the guests present were Dr. H. L. E. Johnson, Judge E. B. Stocking, and Thomas C. Hensey, all of whom spoke in favor of suffrage for the District. It was decided to endorse the measure and to suggest to Senator Gallinger that an amendment should be made to his amendment providing for educational and property qualifications of voters.

The meeting was presided over by Louis P. Shoemaker. A number of resolutions were offered, requesting that minor repairs be made in Brightwood. W. R. MacRille's resolution relative to the desire for a memorial bridge was heartily approved.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE.

The jury in the suit of Virgil Polling against the Capital Traction Company to recover $30,000, as damages for personal injuries, failed to agree on a verdict and were late yesterday afternoon discharged from further consideration of the case. The trial was commenced before Justice Claiborne November 12, in Circuit Court No. 1, and lasted exactly a month.

THOM TRIAL POSTPONED.

The trial of Charles Thom, who is accused of the murder of his wife, Ida Thom, on May 4 last, was not resumed today. At the close of the proceedings yesterday it was decided at a conference between counsel on either side and Justice Anderson that further hearing in the case would be postponed until Monday.

FIRST SESSION OF THE WASHINGTON ECONOMIC SOCIETY

The Washington Economic Society held its first meeting of the organization's 1902-1903 series last night in the parlors of the Riggs House. President Ellis H. Roberts was in the chair.

The feature of the meeting was an address on "Labor" by Frank P. Sargent, Commissioner of Immigration. Mr. Sargent was formerly president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, and is thoroughly familiar with the subject discussed.

Election of officers resulted in the following being chosen: President, Ellis H. Roberts; vice presidents, Robert L. O'Brien, Dr. R. I. Holand, and Prof. Rowland P. Faulkner; treasurer, Milton R. Allen; secretary, J. J. H. Fishback. After election of officers the annual dinner was enjoyed.

DR. CLARKE TO LECTURE IN ENGLAND ON ATOMIC THEORY

Will Speak Before the Wilde Foundation at Centennial Anniversary.

Dr. Frank Wigglesworth Clarke, professor of mineral chemistry in the Columbian University and chief chemist of the United States Geological Survey, has been invited by the Philosophical Society of Manchester, England, to deliver the Wilde lecture on the atomic theory, upon the 100th anniversary of the propounding of this theory at Manchester by John Dalton.

The essence of Dalton's theory, upon which modern chemistry is founded, is that every chemical element is made up of homogeneous atoms whose weight is constant. It is very fitting that Prof. Clarke, who has devoted upward of thirty years to the study of these atomic weights, should have been selected from the chemists of the world to make the address on this important occasion.

Although the Manchester Philosophical Society was established in the eighteenth century, the Wilde foundation, under which the lecture is to be given, was created but recently; yet the Wilde lecturers have been chosen from the list of the most eminent men of science in England. Among those so honored may be mentioned Lord Rayleigh, the physicist; Prof. Ramsay, the discoverer of the rare elements Neon, Crypton, and Xenon, and Dr. Huggins, the astronomer.

Dr. Clarke has filled many important professional positions, has held the highest office in several of our most prominent scientific societies, and has been decorated by foreign governments, but this invitation is a most unique distinction.

PAINTERS DESIRE TO MAKE A CORRECTION

The members of the Brotherhood of Painters, local 388, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, have taken exception to a statement recently published about some of its members. It was said that a number of members of the brotherhood had become disgusted with that organization and had applied for reinstatement in the Amalgamated Painters' Association.

This statement is what the brotherhood objects to and its members say that it is not true. The brotherhood is said to control, or have men in, all of the paint shops in this city with but two exceptions. It has 446 members. Its members claim the Amalgamated Painters have no stronghold in this city, as they have but sixty-eight men, and when the repairs on a certain hotel are completed the association, so far as this city is concerned, will be dropped. The members of the brotherhood declare that everyone of them are contented and have no reason whatever to leave it and join the Amalgamated Painters.

HOME OF THE BLIND IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

Committee's Reports Show That General Condition of the Institution Is Improved.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Aid Association for the Blind was held at the Home for the Blind, 915 E Street north-west. The reports from the various committees showed marked improvements in all lines of the work. The finances of the association are in better shape than at any previous time this year. The industrial committee reported good returns for the month from workshops and women workers.

The report of Mrs. E. C. Gittings, the matron, showed that all the inmates were in good health, and that Thanksgiving brought them many donations, which were greatly needed.

Services are held every Sunday afternoon in the parlors of the home by the different clergymen of the city, accompanied by young people who contribute the music. Readings are held nearly every evening by volunteers who are interested in the work.

Large Trial Package Free—Quickly Cured.

Any person having catarrh always has a bad breath. The sense of smell and taste are nearly always totally destroyed in time so that the person who has catarrh does not realize how loathsome their disease is. They continue their K'hawking-K'hawking and spitting and spitting about promiscuously until they are shunned by everyone, and the sight of them is enough to make a well person sick.

Game's Catarrh Cure gives wonderful relief, especially in those chronic cases where the mucus drops down the throat and lungs, becoming the stomach, and leads to many diseases, including Consumption.

Catarrh is a deep-seated disease, and local applications, inhalations, sprays, etc., are of no avail. It will not go out. A large trial package mailed free that will convince you. Send name and address at once to C. E. Gauss, 809 Main St., Marshall, Mich.
